THE WEATHER.

The daily record of the thermometer in this city yesterday, as kept at C. W. Brandon's drug store, was: 7 a. m., 38 degrees above; 12 m., 46 degrees above; 4 p. m., 50 degrees above; 8 p. m., 44 degrees above.

ABOUT THE CITY.

Dr. St. Jean went fishing yesterday and caught a 10-pound cold.

It is understood that H. A. D'Acheul has purchased the Boardman residence on Oak street.

D. Tietjen, the cigar manufacturer, will occupy one of the stores in the new Petritz building on Main street as soon as it is completed.

A full attendance is desired at the W. C. T. U. this afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp, as there is business of importance to attend to. Mrs. F. C. Kinney, secretary.

All charter members of the Anaconda Lodge of Elks are requested to meet in the parlors of the Montana hotel Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

A meeting was held last night in Dr. Macdonald's office of the committee on permanent organization for the new athletic association. Another meeting will be held this evening in the same place.

A picked nine composed of the following players: Charlton, Heslop, Patton, Lewis, Henderson, McGovern, Barnaby, Dunn and Seales, challenges the Carroll base ball team to play a game of base ball on Sunday, May 1, 1892.

"Spider and Fly."
 Of the "Spider and Fly" combination which appears at Evans opera house next Monday evening, the Philadelphia Press of a recent date says: "Spider and Fly" drew an audience that filled every available seat of the Empire last night. Just why this very attractively presented combination of variety and spectacular effect should merit the name it bears, is not clear. The piece is a succession of fairland scenes, in which specialty acts, acrobatic marches, clever dancing and good singing are the characteristic features.

Charles H. Kinney, as Horatio Pickles, an author in hard luck, and James A. Kierman as Larry, an English flunkey, are a pair of clever comedians, who, with Minnie and Lillie Thurgate, two very shapely young ladies and remarkably clever dancers, are the leading individualities of the performance. Lillian White is as pretty when she first made her debut on the variety stage. She appears as Rosie Dorelle, a singing and dancing nobleman from old England.

Letta, the equilibrist, is about as fine a performer in his line as has been seen here this or any other season. The twin sisters Putnam are pretty, and, what is more, can sing in a way that merits hearty applause.

Corinne.

"Carmen," as done by the Kimball Opera Comique and Burlesque company, is no way similar to the production of "Carmen Up to Date," now being presented by the London Gaiety company at their theater on the other side. It is an entirely original construction conceived by Mrs. Jennie Kimball, who, feeling that Corinne had never had a good opportunity to display her ability, and recognizing in her temperament and appearance the advantages of which she would be possessed in assuming the role of Carmen, determined to elaborately produce a burlesque of the opera. The production was so successful that it became quite the craze in New York. Corinne's Spanish dances are said to have been the talk of the town. The company now embrace 60, and among them are some of the most prominent artists of the burlesque line in America. The famous "Toreador song" is rendered by the popular baritone, Bernard Dyllan. This brilliant little artist will appear with the 60 artists of the Kimball Opera Comique and Burlesque company in her great success, "Carmen," at Evans opera house Wednesday evening May 4.

There was some talk of arranging for an appearance of the Jim Corbett combination in this city next Sunday. It was understood here that the company had cancelled its engagement in Butte for that day, and would be open to come here if desired. The members of the new athletic club at their first meeting appointed a committee to confer with the manager of Corbett, and if possible arrange for the appearance of the great Californian here.

The committee telegraphed, offering to secure a good house and give him a royal reception if he would come, but the answer was that the Anaconda Athletic association would have to give a good-sized guarantee before Corbett would come. While there would be no trouble in securing the money to pay Corbett to come the committee in charge did not think it wise to give any more inducements for the combination to come to Anaconda than Butte or other towns had to give. There are hundreds of persons in Anaconda who would be ready to pay to see this man who is matched to fight John L. Sullivan for a princely purse and the championship of the world, but they don't like the idea of having to give more than their neighbors for this privilege.

Possibly Corbett's manager may yet bring him to Anaconda, but he won't if he waits for the Anaconda Athletic Association to give terms more liberal than those exacted from other cities. John L. Sullivan came to Anaconda a few weeks ago and was well satisfied to come without a guarantee; he left town several hundred dollars richer as the result of his visit. Corbett must whip Sullivan before he is in a position to command more than the big Boston boy from people in this neck of the woods.

The following telegram was received last night:

HELENA, MONT., April 28.
 To the Editor of the Standard:
 We offer $50 to man standing before Corbett four rounds; $50 to man facing him five times, Sunday next.
 W. A. BRADY.

Evans hall is beautifully decorated for the ball to be given to-night by the members of Rocky Mountain lodge, No. 91, International Association of Machinists. Never did the old hall look prettier or more inviting. It has taken no little expenditure of time and money to make it appear as it did last night when a STANDARD reporter entered to look at the decorations.

The walls and railings of stage, balconies, boxes and gallery are literally covered with flowers, evergreens, flags, bunting and banners. Over the stage hangs a beautiful gilt banner with the inscription "Welcome," tastefully wrought in letters of gold, and bordered with evergreens entwined with roses.

Over the centre of the stage hangs a handsome emblem of the order—a pair of calipers, a square and a fly wheel—set in a pretty star of evergreens and roses. Pendants of evergreens, dotted with bright flowers, trail from these decorations in front of the stage to the boxes and along the walls. Interspersed every few feet are prettily mounted stars of green and gold. Above these are shields also fashioned in green and gilt and bearing in their center the names of the most noted mechanics and inventors known to the world. Baldwin, Stephenson, Watts, Fulton and Whitney are honored.

Along the sides of the hall hang very pretty mottoes inscribed "Health," "Prosperity," "Wealth." Over all the many incandescent electric lights Chinese lanterns are suspended but partly hidden by charming little baskets of flowers and evergreens. On the south wall hangs the chart of the lodge in a handsome frame. Above and around all are hanging half a hundred American flags. Wreaths of natural and artificial flowers and evergreens hang on every hand. In the center of the ceiling is suspended a beautiful wreath of flowers and evergreens. Centering at this point are great masses of red, white and blue bunting. Two large are lights have been placed in the center of the ball room and the whole place will be as beautiful and as cheerful as it can be made.

Miss Annie Richards is given much of the credit by the members of the lodge for the decorations.

The most unique thing in the room, however, is a miniature locomotive which stands on a little track on the front of the stage. It is one of the most complete models of an intricate piece of machinery ever seen in these parts. Every part of it is complete and works absolutely as a big ore hauler. Engine and tender are of iron, steel, brass, silver and wood. It weighs about 100 pounds; the steam gauge will show 40 pounds of steam; the cab is of black walnut, mounted by German silver and polished brass. Inside the cab is the engineer's velvet cushioned seat, the levers, stops, gauges, cocks and valves just as in a regular locomotive. The driving rod is six inches long and the ribband five-sixths of an inch. The driver is five inches in diameter and the cylinder is seven-eighths bore. The reverse lever works like a charm, and will cause her to back up or go ahead as desired. The air brake apparatus is perfect; the cylinders are "saddle" and built of brass. The pilot is of cherry, iron-bound. The tank will hold one gallon of water. On a silver plate on the side of the boiler is engraved:

CHARLES NEAL,
 BUILDER,
 FT. WAYNE, IND.

The unique little piece of mechanism stands upon a track of steel rails 3/4 inch wide. The engine and tender is 3 feet 2 inches long, 14 inches to the top of the stack and 12 inches to the top of the cab. Behind the smokestack is a pretty silver bell. The whole thing is a complete model of a class A engine on the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railway. "Montana Union No. 2" is engraved on the side of the tender. The boiler is made of 40 pound copper. The truck wheel is 1 1/4 inches in diameter. The engine will be steamed up and running to-night, during the ball. Mrs. Neal, wife of the inventor, has decorated the little engine with wreaths of flowers, and it looks altogether cute and interesting.

Those who miss to-night's ball will miss a great treat.

ANOTHER DUEL.

A Sequel of the Fox-Borrowe Affair, and French Blood Spilled.

BRUSSELS, April 28.—There has been another duel as a sequel of the Fox-Borrowe meeting. Comments in the clubs, cafes and public places, are generally not restricted and as a result there are varied comments. The duel took place Wednesday evening between Harry Vane Milbank and a Frenchman, whose name is not divulged. The duel occurred about two miles from Ostend. The cause of the affair was a remark made by the Frenchman regarding the character of the Fox-Borrowe meeting. The Frenchman was wounded in the hip. Whether the wound is serious is not known. All details of the matter have been kept a profound secret.
